

ONLINE RESEARCH PARTICIPATION

Researchers from Flinders University are interested in your opinions on the essential 'transdiagnostic targets' to address in future interventions for eating disorders, for early intervention and for augmenting treatment.

If you are 18 years or older, currently live in Australia, speak English, and belong to one of the following expert groups, you are eligible to participate:

- Person with lived experience of an eating disorder, past or present
- Significant other, who lived with and/or cared for someone with an eating disorder, past or present
- Credentialed clinician specialising in eating disorders, present
- Researcher specialising in eating disorders, present

To volunteer, please click the link or scan the QR code to read the participation information sheet and provide consent. Following a 1-minute survey to check eligibility, participation will involve completing two or three online surveys, totalling 60 minutes, over about two months.

As a thank you for your participation, after completing the surveys you will be sent a $100 Coles voucher.
